

OVERVIEW OF THE UKRAINIAN HRYVNIA

It is always a challenge to deal with the foreign currency while traveling to another country. These are some tips you might need while traveling to Ukraine.

The national currency of Ukraine appeared in 1996 and it is called “hryvnia” (UAH). There are 100 coins (kopiyyka) in 1 hryvnia.

The Ukrainian hryvnia exchange rate is not fixed to the dollar or any other currency. You can check current exchange rate on

There are a lot of currency exchange offices in Ukraine. Each of them will accept euros, dollars, pounds and rubles. Exchange rates are always displayed on the boards near the exchange. The difference between the rates is usually very small as much as the difference between buying and selling.

There are exchanges at the airports although the rate in the city center is better. However it is a good option if you need some cash for the taxi.

There are also a lot of ATMs in Ukraine called “bankomat” in Ukrainian as well as in both airports in Kyiv. The fee for withdrawing the money depends on the ATM’s bank. Sometimes cards can be rejected because of anti-fraud measures. Therefore we suggest to warn your bank before traveling to Ukraine and inform them about the dated of your trip.
